Bible And Missionary Conference Will Begin Independence Day

Many local people will be looking forward this year again to the Bible and Missionary Conference which is to begin on Independence Day. These who like scenery, fresh air, physical exercise, good food for the body and the soul should plan to take in the Conference July 4-9.

The Conference will officially open with supper on Sunday evening at 5:00 o'clock.

Eva Gelist Carl Johnson who plays his "humming bird guitar" and sings will bring his first message Sunday evening at 7:00 p.m. He is no stranger in these parts for he has conducted some successful revivals in nearby communities. Rev. Johnson will be speaking each evening during the Conference.

A missionary back home on furlough after to terms in Kenya, Africa, will tell of his experiences in bringing the Gospel to the people out there. Rev. Fred Gibson will be our missionary speaking to us on Monday morning at 9:30 and each day at this hour.

They are beginning a two weeks county-wide campaign at Jackson on July 4 in the Lee's College Gymnasium. Dr. Philpot is on television and is a nationally known evangelist. This will be an excellent opportunity to see and hear the whole team.

Each afternoon there will be variety. On Tuesday "Evangelism In Depth for the Appalachia Region" will be presented and on Thursday Rev. Carl Johnson will preach.

There will be inspiration and challenge in every service. You may come for one meeting; for Trenton, New Jersey comes to us highly recommended as a Bible teacher. He will speak each morning at the 10:45 hour and on Monday afternoon at 2:00.

Agree Or Not

I Say What I Think

By S. C. VAN CUREN

The story last week of a former truck line owner claiming that he contributed $130,000 to former Gov. Bert T. Combs' campaign brings into focus Kentucky's outmoded statutes limiting expenditures to $10,000 in a gubernatorial race.

Gov. Edward T. Breathitt has appointed a committee to make a study of campaign financing, presumably to make recommendations to the 1966 General Assembly to make a change in the law making it more realistic.

Best estimates of knowledgeable political observers here is that a gubernatorial campaign will cost from a million to a million and a half dollars. Consequently numerous committees are formed and many persons handle campaign funds and the candidate is kept in complete ignorance of the financing.

Television time, radio, newspaper and other advertising have skyrocketed costs of conducting a campaign. The $10,000 limit would not cover cost of state headquarters and its telephone and related bills, much less advertising, travel and other expenses necessary to conducting a campaign.

E. H. (Eph) Hoover, the former truck line owner, said in depositions in a civil case in Tennessee that trucking interests contributed $130,000 to a Combs emissary after his primary campaign in 1959.

In another case brought by the Internal Revenue Service for income tax evasion, Hoover pled guilty.

It was in the 1959 campaign that wild political charges were hurled about by Combs supporters that A. B. (Happy) Chandler, then governor, and supporter of Lt. Gov. Harry Lee Waterfield for the Democratic nomination against Combs, had half a million in campaign funds stashed away in Cuba and couldn't get it to Cuba because of the Castro rebellion.

In the 1963 campaign when Chandler was opposing Governor Edward T. Breathitt for the law, nomination, John Thomas Catlett of Lexington filed a deposition in Franklin Circuit Court in an income tax case against him claiming he had paid kickbacks in highway equipment deals to emissaries of Chandler. The case is No. 64052 in Franklin Circuit Court and the state has not pressed it to trial.

Revenue Commissioner James E. Luckett said members of the field staff of the Department of Revenue have made a thorough search and have found no property in Catlett's name that is subject to levy.

Catlett was indicted by a Federal Grand Jury in Louisville May 11, 1964 and charged with evading $90,101.28. The case was set for trial November 29, 1965 at 10 a.m. in Federal Court in Lexington. Luckett said the state will wait to see what luck the federal has in the case. The state now has liens on file against Catlett, Luckett said.

The State Highway Department's much publicized truck purchase deal during the Combs administration with Thurston Cook, Louisville automobile dealer, was another political issue that got a lot of airing.

Back in the Clements administration, there was the Bogie Equipment arising over campaign contributions.

When Combs defeated Waterfield in 1959, Waterfield supporters conducted fish fries all over the state to pay off his campaign deficit.

In the 1963 campaign, Chandler's headquarters ran into debt and some of his supporters had to pay off a $25,000 note they had signed. Breathitt forces later conducted a campaign drive to pay off part of his deficit and contributed to pay off some of Chandler's.

A candidate cannot afford to know how much is spent in his behalf under today's statutes. Maybe Breathitt's committee will come up with recommendations and the 1966 General Assembly will write a realistic law.

H. B. Noble Appointed Chairman Of Kosair Hospital Fund Campaign

Kosair Crippled Children Hospital, 982 Eastern Parkway in Louisville has just announced that Mr. H. B. Noble, Box 707, Hazard, Kentucky has been appointed chairman of Perry County for the 1965 Kosair Hospital Operating Fund Campaign.

As Chairman it will be Mr. Noble's job to organize Perry County and see that it does its part in helping the 1965 Kosair Campaign reach its statewide goal of $225,000.

For thirty-one years Kosair Hospital has been relentlessly helping the crippled children of Kentucky regardless of race or creed. During this time everyone of this state's 120 counties has had some of its children in Kosair.

Kosair Hospital makes only two requirements for admission. First, the child must be suffering from a crippling disease or ailment and secondly, the child's parents must be unable to afford the necessary medical treatment.

However, the magnitude of Kosair Hospital lies in the fact that it is for all Kentuckians. Kosair is here ready, willing and able to serve your child, your grandchild, or your neighbor's child should they ever become crippled. Kosair is an insurance policy that says your child will always have some place to go.

You can't afford not to have this insurance.

Mr. Noble suggests that you can either contact him personally or send your contributions directly to Kosair Crippled Children Hospital Operating Fund Campaign, 982 Eastern Parkway, Louisville, Kentucky 40217.

Hazard's Eyesores

One of the best things to come out of the summer campaign to clean up and beautify Hazard is the way it shows how dirty the City of Hazard is by contrast.

It would seem that a well-organized town like Hazard would have no trouble in being almost spotless. We have regular garbage collection, a city dump, a city street cleaner, and we have and garden clubs to promote the use of proper cleanliness.

The use of these advantages there are many attractive places in Hazard. And for many as busy as ours, they do remain so. The city is clean and the streets are clean. The city is clean and the streets are clean. The city is clean and the streets are clean.

But in spite of these same advantages, there are many terrible eyesores that the City should be ashamed of. Yet when the City is asked to clean up to the point of removing some 800 old junk cars, Hazard has said no. It has said no. It has said no.

The total number of old junk cars right here in town is astounding. Once you start paying attention to them, you will find them everywhere. They are everywhere. They are everywhere.

Not only have we failed to get the basic cleanup done here in town, some progress made in the past is threatened by the carelessness of the public. We refer particularly to the damage being done to the grass and trees that have begun to grow by the roadside between downtown and Waketown.

The success of the county's cleanup project was due to three main things: the cooperation of the various state agencies such as the Highway and Forestry Departments and the Vocational School, the availability of the unemployed fathers work crews, and the effective enforcement of existing laws.

Those in charge of the county's force did not hesitate to use the weight of the law for their purpose. They offered to remove the junk cars free of charge and to those who wanted the offer they issued a twenty-four hour notice to remove the junk cars.

So far we haven't seen any pressure of the kind applied to offenders in Hazard. It is this law and this approach to be applied only to the county people. Are Hazard's business and individuals exempt from it?

If they are guilty of littering, they should be given the same alternatives as the county. It is the county's duty to enforce the law. It is the county's duty to enforce the law.

The Declaration Of Independence

In Congress, July 4, 1776. The unanimous Declaration of the thirteen united States of America:

When in the Course of human events, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume among the powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the laws of Nature and of Nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation.

We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness.

That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed.

That whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new Government, laying its foundation on such principles and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness. Prudence, indeed, will dictate that Governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes, and accordingly all experience hath shown, that mankind are more disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable, than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed. But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same Object, evinces a design to reduce them under absolute Despotism, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such Government and to provide new Guards for their future security.

Such has been the patient sufferance of these Colonies, and such is now the necessity which constrains them to alter their former Systems of Government. The history of the present King of Great Britain is a history of repeated injuries and usurpations, all having in direct object the establishment of an absolute Tyranny over these States. To prove this, let Facts be submitted to a candid world.

He has refused his Assent to Laws, the most wholesome and necessary for the public good.

He has forbidden his Governors to pass Laws of immediate and pressing importance, unless suspended in their operation till his Assent should be obtained; and when so suspended, he has utterly neglected to attend to them.

He has refused to pass other Laws for the accommodation of large districts of people, unless those people would relinquish the right of Representation in the Legislature, a right inestimable to them and formidable to tyrants only.

He has called together legislative bodies at places unusual, uncomfortable, and distant from the depository of their public Records, for the sole purpose of fatiguing them into compliance with his measures.

He has dissolved Representative Houses repeatedly, for opposing with manly firmness his invasions on the rights of the people.

He has refused for a long time, after such dissolutions, to cause others to be elected; whereby the Legislative powers, incapable of Annihilation, have returned to the People at large for their exercise; the State remaining in the mean time exposed to all the dangers of invasion from without, and convulsions within.

He has endeavored to prevent the population of these States, for that purpose obstructing the Laws for Naturalization of Foreigners; refusing to pass others to encourage their migrations hither, and raising the conditions of new Appropriations of Lands.

He has obstructed the Administration of Justice, by refusing his Assent to Laws for establishing Judiciary powers.

He has made Judges dependent on his Will alone, for the tenure of their offices, and the amount and payment of their salaries.

He has erected a multitude of New Officers, and sent hither swarms of Officers to harrass our people and eat out their substance.

He has kept among us in times of peace, Standing Armies without the Consent of our legislatures.

Have We Lost The Meaning Of The 4th Of July?

We have invented so many ways to entertain ourselves — picnics, water skiing, outdoor barbecues, gluttonous feasts, riding fast automobiles, the list is endless — that the real purpose of Independence Day has almost been lost in the fun we try to have on all our holidays.

Even the traditional ceremonies that communities across the nation hold on the Fourth of July often miss the real meaning behind this annual observance of ours. The orators try hard, but the immediate significance of Independence Day is lost in a jumble of generalities about patriotism and freedom.

Certainly these two subjects are the most important things that men can talk about when they meet, and it is a shame that we do not talk about them much any more. But, perhaps one reason the subjects of patriotism and freedom do not hold the magic they use to hold, especially for young people is that when they are mentioned, it is usually in the context of dry old history, without reference to the world as we know it now.

It's a hard thing to contemplate on water skis, and not many of the holiday orators will mention it. But if the Fourth of July, 1965, has any meaningful function, it is to remind us that almost two hundred years after the famous document was written, most people in the world, and many thousands in the United States, still suffer from the same oppressions that the Colonialists complained of in the Declaration of Independence.

He has affected to render the Military Independence of and superior to the Civil power.

He has combined with others to subject us to a jurisdiction foreign to our constitution, and unacknowledged by our laws, giving his Assent to their Acts of pretended Legislation.

For quartering large bodies of armed troops among us:

For protecting them, by a mock Trial, from punishment for any Murders which they should commit on the Inhabitants of these States.

For cutting off our Trade with all parts of the world. For imposing Taxes on us without our Consent: For depriving us in many cases, of the benefits of Trial by Jury

For transporting us beyond Seas to be tried for pretended offences.

For abolishing the free System of English Laws in a neighboring Province, establishing therein an Arbitrary government, and enlarging its Boundaries so as to render it at once an example and fit instrument for introducing the same absolute rule in these Colonies.

For taking away our Charters, abolishing our most valuable Laws, and altering fundamentally the Forms of our Governments.

For suspending our own Legislatures, and declaring themselves invested with power to legislate for us in all cases whatsoever.

He has abdicated Government here, by declaring us out of his Protection and waging War against us.

He has plundered our seas, ravaged our Coasts, burnt our towns, and destroyed the lives of our people.

He is at this time transporting large Armies of foreign Mercenaries to compleat the works of death, desolation and tyranny, already begun with circumstances of Cruelty & perfidy scarcely paralleled in the most barbarous ages, and totally unworthy the Head of a civilized nation.

He has constrained our fellow Citizens taken Captive on high Seas to bear Arms against their Country, to become the executioners of their friends and Brethren, or to fall themselves by their Hands.

He has excited domestic insurrection amongst us, and has endeavored to bring on the inhabitants of our frontiers, the merciless Indian Savages, whose known rule of warfare, is an undistinguished destruction of all ages, sexes and conditions.

In every stage of these Oppressions We have Petitioned for Redress in the most humble terms. Our repeated Petitions have been answered only by repeated injury. A Prince, whose character is thus marked by every act which may define a Tyrant, is unfit to be the ruler of a free people.

Nor have We been wanting in attentions to our British brethren. We have warned them from time to time of attempts by their legislature to extend an unwarrantable jurisdiction over us. We have reminded them of the circumstances of our emigration and settlement here. We have appealed to their native justice and magnanimity, and we have conjured them by the ties of our common kindred to disavow these usurpations, which, would inevitably interrupt our connections and correspondence. They too have been deaf to the voice of justice and of consanguinity. We must, therefore, acquiesce in the necessity, which denounces our Separation, and hold them, as we hold the rest of mankind, Enemies in War, in Peace Friends.

We, therefore, the Representatives of the united States of America, in General Congress, Assembled, appealing to the Supreme Judge of the world for the rectitude of our intentions, do, in the Name, and by Authority of the good People of these Colonies, solemnly publish and declare, That these United Colonies are, and of Right ought to be, Free and Independent States; that they are Absolved from all Allegiance to the British Crown, and that all political connections between them and the State of Great Britain, is and ought to be totally dissolved; and that as Free and Independent States, they have full Power to levy War, conclude Peace, contract Alliances, establish Commerce, and to do all other Acts and Things which Independent States may of right do.

And for the support of this Declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our Lives, our Fortunes and our sacred Honor.

that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness."

We should think about these things today, because next Sunday we're going to be too busy picnicking and swimming and eating to give them much consideration. We should try to realize now, before the fun begins, just how courageous a thing it was for the signers of the Declaration to defy the established government of their time and to take the very radical action they did when they decided to try to change the existing, established order so that rights and freedom could be extended to every man.

We should try, before the trip to Buckhorn Lake, to make the connection between what those men did in 1776 and what there is left to do in 1965.

We should study, before the holiday fireworks go up, and try to see the relevance between the Colonialists' fight for their freedom and the American Negro's fight for his.

LAND OF THE FREE

America, O Power benign, great hearts revere your name,
You stretch your hand to every land, to weak and strong the same
You claim no conquest of the sea, nor conquest of the field,
But conquest for the rights of man, that despots all shall yield.
America, staunch, undismayed, your spirit is our might:
No splendor falls on feudal walls upon your mountain's height,
But shafts of Justice pierce your skies to light the way for all,
A world's great brotherhood of man, that cannot, must not fall.
America to God we trust, we fear no tyrant's horde:
There's light that leads toward better deeds than conquest by the sword,
Yet our cause is just, if fight we must until the world be free
Of every menace, breed, or caste that strikes at Liberty.
America, home of the brave, our song in praise we bring—
Where Stars and Stripes the winds unfurl, 'tis there that tributes ring;
Our fathers gave their lives that we should live in Freedom's light
Our lives we consecrate to thee, our guide the Might of Right.

Mayor Seeks Aid For Lothair Services

Hazard Mayor Willie Dawahare left today for Washington, D.C., where he expects to confer with federal officials to determine what types of federal aid are available to Hazard in its effort to expand city services to newly-annexed Lothair as soon as possible.

His main concern is to find ways to finance extension of Hazard's sewage system to Lothair as rapidly as possible. Lothair already receives city water.

Twelve Men Found Innocent In Slaying of Mine Worker

The trial of 12 men in Leslie County Circuit Court in connection with the fatal shooting of Ernest Creech, 39, of Bonnyman at the Blue Diamond Coal Company Mine near Leatherwood early this year has ended with an acquittal of all 12 on the charge of murder.

Sam Gayhart Jr., charged with murder, was found innocent after the jury deliberated only 10 minutes.

Gayhart and the 11 others faced charges of banding and confederating and according to Leslie County Commonwealth Attorney Lester Burns the case "certainly will" come before the November term of court.

Murder indictments against Jack Childers and Henry P. Gross were dismissed on a motion by Burns before the acquittal. Burns said he lacked evidence connecting them with the shooting.

Charges of murder against Boyd Couch, Jim Hamilton, Eugene Hensley, Steve Jones, a long-barreled weapon at the Worley Robbins, Lee Sexton truck an instant before the and Jimmy L. Suttles would be shooting.

Appalachian Road Program Launched At Isom

Henry Ward Asks Road Bond Support

In a speech at a crowded VFW Club Monday night, Kentucky Highway Commissioner Henry Ward described his Department's road-building plans for this region and then urged passage of a $176 million road bond issue to help pay the bill.

His report that 84 miles of new highways connecting Whitesburg with the Mountain Parkway at campion are guaranteed by the Appalachian Bill if matching funds remain available wasn't exactly news, but some of the details of that future construction did surprise and delat at the large audience.

Ward said that engineering plans are finished and rights of way are now being purchased on a 25.8 mile link between Combs and Quicksand, and that the stretch of new road had a completion date of June, 1967, at a cost of $13.5 million.

Another section connecting Hazard and Vico is scheduled for completion in October, 1968 at a cost of $9.7 million.

The 7-mile section between Isom and Whitesburg in Letcher County is expected to be far enough along by next winter to permit letting of contracts for paving.

Ground was broke, and construction of finally began on this link last Tuesday.

Ward pointed out that all these completion dates are far in advance of the Appalachian Bill's provision, which is a five-year program.

He cautioned, however, that failure to pass the road bond issue might seriously jeopardize the whole Route 15 re-building program because without the bonds, the State may be unable to come up with its 30 per cent share of funds to match federal money from the Appalachian Bill.

He particularly urged Eastern Kentuckians to support the bond issue.

"If we don't get support where we obviously need it, we aren't going to get it anywhere," he said, adding that Western Kentucky was getting a little jealous of all the new roads in Eastern Kentucky and might not be enthusiastic about the road bond issue because so much of the funds would go to the mountain counties.

In a strong appeal for support for the bond issue, Ward pointed to other states who are using the same means to raise highway funds.

He said Ohio had approved a bond issue worth $700 million, West Virginia one worth $200 million, and that North Carolina was considering an issue of $300 million worth.

The dinner was sponsored by the District Better Roads Council.

Two-Dollar Bills

Flood Hazard On Weekend

Scale Motor Company was the first Hazard business to notify the Herald it had taken in $400 in two dollar bills last weekend and thus won a year's subscription to the newspaper.

The second business to so notify the Herald was Bailey's Service Station and Restaurant, winning a free newspaper ad.

The Herald sponsored the contest as a means of gauging the volume of business done in Hazard by miners in the Leatherwood section, who were paid in two dollar bills last week.

Other local merchants receiving large amounts of two dollar bills were: J & R Super Market, $500 worth; Scott's Store, $300; Mother Goose Market, $275; Perry Farm Center, $200; Hammonds Gulf, $140; Thrifty Shop, $130; Baker Furniture Company, $128; Gene Baker Motor Company, $100; and Smith Shopping Center, $100.

The crowd, numbering over a thousand, sweltered in 90 degree heat under a cloudless sky as a series of speakers orated an hour and a half.

The Appalachian Group To Save Land And People showed up with signs protesting strip mining and thanking Governor Breathitt for his visit.

Hazard's Rev. M. T. Canada and Mayor Dawahare sat on the speaker's stand with state and federal officials. Rev. Canada delivered the benediction.

These boys were part of a group from Elkhorn Creek in Leslie County who bore signs demanding a road to their homes cut off by Buckhorn Lake.

1,000 People Celebrate New Road Construction

Ground was broken Tuesday near Isom in Letcher County to officially begin the first road construction project in Kentucky as part of the Appalachian Development Program.

Bulldozers and workmen began the first actual earth moving at a signal from Governor Breathitt, following speaking ceremonies before about 1,000 people in a field a short distance away.

The new work is made possible through a "quick-start" grant from the Appalachian Bill, passed earlier this year by Congress.

The work begun near Isom begins a 2.7 mile project to Van, the first link in an eventual 7 mile stretch leading to Whitesburg, which is expected to be completed in November, 1966 at a cost $4 million.

The Isom-to-Whitesburg road is part of an 84 mile extension of the Mountain Parkway from Campton to the Letcher County seat, scheduled for total completion in 1968.

The new Kentucky 15 will be a vast improvement over the old. The present 18 foot width will be expanded to 24 feet. Shoulders too, feet wide will be added to each side. Curves will be eliminated or eased, and in some places a third lane will be added to facilitate passing.

Before signalling the road work, Governor Breathitt told the sweltering crowd that "As we break new ground for a road which will cut through our mountains and guide commerce into our valleys, we do more than point the way. We build into this new road a basic foundation for total development action for our Region."

Breathitt concluded his remarks with a strong personal plea for Eastern Kentucky's support of his $176 million road bond issue on the ballot in next November's election.

Without the bond issue, he said, "virtually none of these great new programs for Appalachia will be available to us."

Kentucky must contribute 30 per cent of the cost of the Appalachian Development Program's road building.

The Governor spoke near the end of an hour and a half of speech making. But the words that seemed to catch most attention of the crowd were printed on sign-boards held aloft by three groups of quiet demonstrators.

One was a group of Harlan people, partly made up of businessmen and Chamber of Commerce representatives, which carried signs demanding the re-building of KY 119 through Harlan.

Another was the Appalachian Group To Save Land And People, on hand to continue its strip-mining protest.

The third group was a delegation made up mostly of young people from Elkhorn Creek in Leslie County, whose homes are frequently cut off from the outside world when Buckhorn Lake is high.

They carried signs pleading for a road to the head of their hollow.

This group appeared briefly outside the VFW Monday to carry their plea to Highway Commissioner Henry Ward, who was the principal speaker at a dinner inside.

They were met by City Police, sheriff's deputies, Leslie County Judge George Wooton, Ward's Executive Assistant Billy Joe Hall and newsmen.

Hall and Judge Wooton heard their complaints. Hall said he would give Ward their message. Judge Wooton reminded the group that he had a bulldozer on location in Elkhorn Creek.

But both officials gave the Leslie Countians a mild scolding for their demonstration and they removed their signs and left.

Lothair Is Annexed

A resolution annexing the community of Lothair to the City of Hazard was passed unanimously by the City Commission last week.

The long-delayed action extended Hazard's city limits to a point just beyond the Nantz Service Station on Highway 15. The old Black Gold commissary is included in the new limits.

(See page 6 of section two in today's Herald for the entire city ordinance which describes in detail the new city limits).

Lothair residents opposing the annexation have 30 days from last Thursday to file a suit of protest.

City Attorney Ernest Faulkner said that if such a suit is filed it would likely be tried at the September term of Perry Circuit Court unless a special term was called for the purpose.

As of today, no formal protest had been lodged with the Circuit Clerk, though the City Commission was handed a protest petition signed by 106 Lothair residents before the ordinance was passed.

The annexation had been discussed in Hazard for several years but the immediate reason for it was the heavy dose of raw sewage Lothair dumps into the Kentucky River, where Hazard gets its drinking water.

The Kentucky Water Pollution Control Commission has urged the annexation for several months.

W. W. Smithers, Assistant Executive Director of the Commission, was on hand to witness the historic annexation.

After the meeting Smithers told the City Commission its action was long past due and that his office was very pleased.

He said recent samples of Hazard's drinking water showed the bacteriological content to be "exceedingly high," higher than they first realized.

The annexation boosts Hazard's population by an estimated 2,000, up to an estimated grand total of over 8,000.

Dewey Daniel "Fair" After Two Strokes

Several of our prominent Hazard citizens are sick this week. Mr. Dewey Daniel, President of Peoples Bank, who suffered two strokes last weekend is listed in fair condition at Mount Mary Hospital.

Dr. E. S. Carter was taken to a Lexington hospital last week and with an oxygen deficiency, but is now at home.

Dr. M. B. Payne still remains very sick at the Veterans Administration Hospital in Louisville.

Truck-Weight Controls Sought

With a request from 40 petitioners in the Lost Creek section of Perry County the Perry Fiscal Court has asked the State to enforce the weight limits against coal trucks using secondary roads.

The governing body of eight magistrates voted, 5-0 last Friday to ask the Kentucky Department of Motor Transportation to send in scales, weighmen, and officers to cite into court drivers of vehicles that exceed the state imposed limit.

The limit is 16 gross tons on secondary roads. Most modern coal trucks exceed the limit even without a load and most secondary roads are used by workers hauling coal to tip-ple.

Spokesmen for the local coal industry said the action, if it is made to stick, will "knock the livelihood out of Perry County and Hazard."

Noplis said he could sympathize with the Lost Creek residents due to an experience of his own. He stated he was recently driving along the road in question when he came upon a spot where the blacktopping had buckled so badly that his car wouldn't straddle it.

"I had to take to the left side of the highway in a hurry," he said, "and I was lucky that no other vehicle was coming on the opposite side."

The stretch of road in question is KY 1146 that branches out from KY 15 at Bulan.

Perry County operators and truckers spoke freely of the court's action but none were willing to be identified.

Flag Raising

Hazard Mayor Willie Dawahare, Perry County Superintendent Dennis Wooton and other Perry County School Officials take part in the flag-raising ceremonies marking the official start of the federally-sponsored program for preschool children June 30 at the Perry County Education Building on High Street.
